Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received direct from the proprietors, the following valuable Medicines, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronised by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders, for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a Family Medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a Stereotype Label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Billious Pills," and on the end of the Label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said Label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's Celebrated Eye-Water:

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources. Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment:

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachic Bitters,

For weakly and infirm constitutions. Price 37½ cents a box.

Hinckley's Infallible Remedy for the Piles,

A most valuable medicine. Price 50 cents a box.

Specific Drops for the Tooth Ache,

Which in almost every case, gives instant relief, in that distressing complaint. Price 37½ cents a bottle.

Cooley's Vegetable Elixir, for Coughs, Asthmas, Consumptions, &c.

A very valuable medicine in those complaints. Price 50 cents a bottle.

For sale in Alexandria, by Edward Stabler & Richard H. Litle; in Georgetown, by John Litle Otho, M. Linthicum & Co. & Nathaniel Jewit; Washington City, David Ott & Elisha Harrison 6w March 1

Land Warrants,

FOR services in the revolutionary war, in the Virginia line on continental establishment.

Owners of, and those entitled (being all who served three years and upwards,) to warrants of the above description, are informed that, under the authority of a law of the United States, locations will, on the 4th day of July next, be permitted to be made on some valuable lands on the Scioto river, and the head waters of the Great Miami river—And as it will be the last opportunity to acquire good land, owners of warrants will do well not to neglect it.

Any warrants forwarded to the subscriber, will be located on such land as he may suppose most likely to please his employers. CADWALLADER WALLACE.

March 15 A. P. GOVER.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE.

LETTERS FROM TOWN.

A book-worm, rear'd in rural shades,
Emerging lately from his glens and glades,
Came hither to complete his education,
To learn a modish air,
And study with some care
What we town-folks acquire without a set probation.

Our hero was not void of common sense,
Although he had, we own, some small book-knowledge; [mood and tense,
Could parse a Greek verb through each
And was an honour-man at —— college.

Our well bred gentlemen may smile to hear, [bear;
That he, with all this learning was no
Had master'd logic with no wish to prose, [toes.
And bowing, seldom trod on ladies'

Nevertheless, we can't the fact deny,
He was not call'd a fashionable man;
There was a glimpse of meaning in his eye,
And his tongue very seldom glibly ran
Thro' that eternal chime of empty matter
Of which our pretty gentlemen can chatter.

The worst of it was, he'd never been abroad;
He never on a great man's toes had trod;
Nor to a court ball gone,
Nor seen Lord Wellington.

His loose cravat had a true rustic tie,
That would in Bond-st. cut a dev'lish figure;
His waistcoat collar was an inch too high,
And his old coat might have been something trigger, [what bigger;
But it was made when coats were some-
Nay, as he scarce for these things car'd a peg,
His breeches have been seen to fit his leg.

With these subtractions from his worth,
Tho' call'd 'good fellow,' and so forth,
He had small note with those of high degree:
I never saw him in the ——'s box,
Nor nodded to by fashionable folks,—
What wonder, then, with rubs like these, if he Sometimes a little splenetic should be,
And should forget it never mends the matter,
To vent your spleen in satire.

You've here a chance to loll, sing, whistle,
Or slumber, if you please, o'er this, his first epistle. [hearty
It tells, in terms rather too strong, his
Dislike of what we folks call a tea-party,
A lesser sort of rout, where you may see
All who ar'n't nuts or ice cream eating,
Engaged in diligently conjugating
Thro' every tense, that French verb, "je m'ennuie."

LETTER.

I take my pen to tell you the town-news:
A plaguy cold,
Just ten hours old,
Which I obtain'd from silk hose and thin shoes,
Has given me opportunity to muse.
Yet spite of weeping eyes and teazing cough,
And rather too much leisure,
I am more comfortable by half,
With all this real pain, than with affected pleasure.

Invited by a written card, [es,
I sallied out last night in shoes & breech-
And entering, I tried very hard [es:
To make just such a bow as fashion teach-
A stiff and angular nod,
Such as is made by country clod,
From England brought,
And lately very modish thought.
The rooms were very full of belles and beaux; [clothes;
There was much talk, and plenty of fine
Yet, as I made my salutation,
Each one ceas'd talking to his neighbor,
As glad of this reprieve from labor,
And the wide hubbub had a slight cessation.
Than ghost in purgatory much forlorner,
I "hop'd my hosts were well," and slipp'd into a corner.

I look'd, and own I lik'd the women's faces,
That dimpled like bright waters all around me;
I can't but say I lik'd their airs and graces,
Which, though they pleas'd, did still somewhat astound me:
Delicate gauzes and transparent laces,
Naught hiding that's worth seeing, did confound me.
I fear'd that I was not awake,
Or had found the dressing room by some mistake.
Still 'twas a pleasant thing to gaze upon
What we poor men so seldom can look on.

But round about these tempting fruits there stood [hedges,
Circles of beaux, that seem'd to serve as
So very stiff, they seem'd all made of wood,
So thin in waist, each seem'd just like two wedges, [part,
Join'd at the point; each one rehears'd his
And said the good things he had got by heart. [same,
Their talk so various, yet so much the Appear'd to have the same relation,
As in what's call'd a variation,
The varying notes bear to what's call'd the theme,—
Which the ear strike
Not as the same, but very much alike.

I will not tell you of their large discourse,
From the first faint remarks upon the weather,
Up, as they gather'd spirit in their course,
To high discussions on a cap & feather;
Nor can I e'en in these loose rhymes, rehearse [gether
Their puns, critiques and sentiment to-
With all their small attempts at wit,
And laughter when they made a hit:
To tell all were not brief nor civil neither;
For theirs like other wit in this is,
That, spite of the best aim, it sometimes misses.

'Twas pretty to behold the little beauty,
All life and talk, and emptiness & clatter,
Each with her trig beau standing upon duty,
And emulating her in show and smatter;
For it is always found
That hollow vessels make the loudest sound;
And the fair phantoms seem'd like those bright vapours [night their capers, Call'd "will o' th'-wisps," which play at
Fickle, incomprehensible and light,
With very little warmth, tho' very bright.

But there was one group very solitary,
Quite moving to a man of any bowels,
With all their heart desiring to be merry,
And their sad faces making plain avowals,
That they would willingly converse
On novels, sermons, prose or verse,
Or hear the dullest story,
To 'scape their solemn, silent purgatory.

Like ghosts upon the banks of Styx, they stood,
Bound for th' Elysium of old maidenhood;
For forty 's here a sort of Stygian river,
Which pass'd, a maid 's a holy maid forever,
Contracts for heav'n a great affinity,
And fattens on her own virginity.
To them no beau his low obeisance made,
Nor customary nothings said:
All dull and woe begone they look'd; therefore I
Suppos'd they came as a memento mori,
Like a death's head
Plac'd near one's bed.

Pass it you please!——after some hard persuasion,
And many a soft evasion, [me,
There came some musick to relieve
And a fair lady sang "believe me,"
I could no longer bear to look
On those sad souls enroll'd in doom's day book,
And could have pour'd out a tamento,
But for another song "dolce concento,"
Sung sometimes slow, and sometimes fast,
Now like a breeze, now like a blast,
With which, when finished, I was quite contento.

You see I use Italian phrases,
But this of fashion the last phase is;
A lunar term,—but fashion, it is plain,
Shines like the moon by borrowing,
Like her, is every week a different thing, [are least sane,
And like her, works the most on brains that
My simile (and few do more)
Runs on three feet, if not on four.*

But I must hasten to a close,
For one would not be tho't to prose.
I wont describe the entry of the waiters,
Hated of dandies, welcome unto eaters, [their clothes;
For these regard their mouths, and these
I wont, —— but 'tis not my intention
To mention all, I say I will not mention,
According to a plan each author knows.
So all I wish to you, my hearty,
Is but to see you once at a Tea Party.
Adieu, I might have rhymed much better,
But I shall try another letter.

*Nullum simile quatuor pedibus currit.
LORD COKE.

From the New-York Daily Adv. May 17.

[At our particular request to the Hon. Judge Woodworth, he has politely consented to the publication of the sentence pronounced by him upon the black woman lately convicted of Arson in this city.]

"ROSE BUTLER,

The crime for which you are about to suffer is justly considered among the most atrocious of human offences. In all civilized countries its punishment has been marked with severity. No prudence or human foresight can protect us against the midnight incendiary—We can resist the highwayman and sometimes defeat the attack of the hired assassin; but in the hour of repose, when nature has sunk to rest, what guard can shield us against the wicked purposes of those in whom we are obliged to place confidence?

"Formerly, the crime of arson was punishable with death; but when our criminal law became the subject of review, the Legislature, tender of human life, and anxious to promote the reformation of the criminal by every mean consistent with the safety of society, substituted imprisonment instead of the sanguinary code which then prevailed.

"This system, with all its imperfections has, on the whole, been consoling to the friends of humanity. From its adoption until about the year 1813, arson was punished by imprisonment in the state prison.—At this time the Legislature distinguished the case of burning an inhabited dwelling house, by declaring that every person convicted of this offence should suffer death for the same.

"Under this law you have been tried and convicted. You had the benefit of counsel to advise with you and assist you on your trial. The evidence of your guilt was clear and satisfactory—your case has been submitted to this Court and ingeniously argued. After the most mature deliberation, we are of opinion that it falls within the statute under which you have been convicted.

"Your crime originated in a wicked and depraved heart—you was a servant in the family—confidence was placed in you; you owed fidelity and obedience—their lives and property were in some measure, placed within your power—you selected a time best calculated to effect your purpose; in the hour of imaginary security you set fire to this dwelling house. The fire took effect—two or three of the kitchen stairs were consumed; a number of persons were asleep at the time in the upper part of the house being alarmed by the noise of fire they awoke and extinguished it. You was offended with one of them for having reprimanded you, and for this cause determined on revenge. The remainder of the family had never injured you or given you the least provocation, and yet you intended to involve all in one common destruction. They retired to rest without suspicion; and had it not been for that mysterious Providence which governs and controls the occurrences of time, and so often brings to nought the counsels of the wicked, they had been consumed. If you are not completely hardened in guilt, you cannot look back and reflect on it without horror.

"You appear to be young. I understand you are quite intelligent, and have had the benefit of instruction—yet it is necessary that you be cut off from society, and expiate your crimes by an ignominious death. You are now to be sentenced by a human tribunal; but you must shortly appear in the presence of your Creator, who possesses infinite purity and boundlesss perfection; who will by no means clear the guilty. Death is but the commencement of being—a state of happiness or misery awaits you beyond the grave. You have but a short time to live—improve that time to prepare to die. I know not whether you have been religiously instructed, but I know that you live in a country where the Christian religion is acknowledged and revered—send for the ministers of this religion; they will not deny you the benefit of their counsel, instruction and prayers. The Gospel of Christ contains the plan of salvation—one of its divine features is, that it is adapted to the meanest capacity. The great essentials of the word of life are plain and obvious—read and meditate on its truths; repent truly of your sins; pray for the illumination of the Holy Spirit—look to the blood of Christ as alone sufficient to purify you—as the fountain that is opened for sinners. To this I recommend you as the only foundation of hope. Although your sins are great, you need not despair if you cast yourself on the merits of this Saviour with confiding hope and humble trust——"If we confess and forsake our sins, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all iniquity."

"It now remains that I discharge the painful duty of the Court in pronouncing the sentence of the law. You are to be taken to the place from whence you came, and from thence on the 11th day of June next, to the place of execution, and between the hours of one and three o'clock in the afternoon, be hanged by the neck, until you are dead—and may God have mercy on your soul."

ARRIVAL OF THE UNITED STATES.

The frigate United States, capt. Crane, came in from sea on Sunday last, and anchored in Lynnhaven Bay, being prevented by head winds from getting into the Roads. Her letter bag was sent up yesterday by a pilot boat.

The United States left Messina, March 10, and Gibraltar March 30, and we learn by one of the officers who have come up from her, that she had a very boisterous and disagreeable passage, with a succession of heavy westerly gales. She brings no later news than the brig Union, which arrived at Marblehead on the 29th ult.—The following items, however, have been politely communicated by an officer on board, to Mr. Lyford, Keeper of the Reading Room. "Left the Franklin and Guerriere at Messina, and the Erie and Spark at Gibraltar. Mr. Shaler, United States Consul General for Barbary, was on board the Erie. The squadron were to unite at Sicily, and then visit the Barbary Regencies.

"A circular communicated to captain Crane, by General Don, lieutenant Governor of Gibraltar, states that the plague continued its ravages in Morocco, Algiers, and Tunis, but the mortality was decreasing.

"Edwin W. Turner, late purser of the United States, died at Messina, after a tedious illness, on the 6th March.

"Spoke May 1st. in lat. 36 36, N. long. 59 17, W. ship Henry Clay, from Norfolk, bound to London—all well."

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

"Gibraltar, March 30.

"Letters from Madrid say, that all is confusion there, and that the Marquis and his cabinet were not expected to hold their seats much longer.

"The Frigate expected from Vera Cruz with specie is said to have arrived at Cadiz, and in consequence, the greatest activity is displayed in preparing the 2nd division of the Lima expedition, and the grand armada for Buenos Ayres. It is distinctly understood that the whole of this specie is private property—mind that.

Distressing effects of the late Gale.

LOSS OF THE SCHOONER GANGES.

From a gentleman who arrived in town on Monday last from Currituck, we learn the following disastrous intelligence:

The schooners Ganges, Ketchum; Speculator, Bishop, and Consolation, Terry, from N. York, bound to Currituck, and the sloop Rachael and Betsey, Nicholls, from Philadelphia, bound to this port, arrived off Currituck Inlet on Wednesday last, the wind at the time blowing a heavy gale from N. E.—The Ganges in her attempt to run in got ashore on the bar, and in pitching with a tremendous sea carried away first her bow sprit, then her mainmast and finally upset—Capt. K. his brother, and a seaman named William Osborne, were the only persons composing the crew—a lad who belonged to the vessel having been previously washed overboard; they succeeded getting on the bottom of the vessel, but in a little time Osborne was dashed off by a wave and perished—and soon after another sea swept the captains brother from the wreck, but he was caught by capt. K. and resqued for a moment from a watry grave, though so much exhausted that he could no longer bear up against the fury of the waves, and shortly after perished in his brother's arms. Capt. Ketchum clung to the wreck until it drifted ashore on the south point of the Inlet, from which perilous situation he was relieved by some of the inhabitants who humanely went to his assistance.

The speculator in attempting to fetch her in carried away her main boom, and run ashore on the south side of the inlet, without any material injury, and will probably be got off.

The Rachael & Betsey, as before observed, was bound to this port, but being driven to the southward of the Capes, endeavored to put into Currituck for a harbor, and was driven by the force of the gale upon the South Shoals, where she got aground, and now remains about 200 yards distance from her requisite depth of water; it is expected however, that she will be got off again without damage.

The Consolation got in safe.

From the Norfolk Beacon of the same date.

We announce with much regret, that the packet schnr. Tell-Tale, captain Richard Churchward, so long a regular and fortunate trader between this port and N. York, left New-York on Tuesday, on her passage to this place, ran ashore in the gale of 13th inst. on Boddy's Island, about 15 miles north of Cape Hatteras, and 3 miles from New Inlet, and bilged. The cargo consisted chiefly of groceries, some Pork, dry goods, and china ware—and sundry small articles on freight. From her situation on the morning of the 14th. it was doubtful if she would be gotten off, without difficulty. Part of her cargo was damaged, though most of it would probably be saved. The vessel and cargo will be sold on the beach, on Monday the 24th inst. for which see the advertisement.

We are politely favored by a passenger, with the following particulars of the loss of the Tell-Tale.

She left New-York at 12 o'clock on Tuesday, with a fair wind from N. E. which increasing to a heavy gale by 12 o'clock on Wednesday, compelled the schr. to lay to under bear poles, until Thursday morning at 5 o'clock, when she endeavored to make the land, which upon first sight, (it being very foggy,) was supposed to be Hog Island, but upon nearing it, found it was considerably to the southward of cape Henry. A tremendous sea then going, it was deemed most prudent to make for the Gulf Stream, but the attempt was frustrated by the severity of the gale, and it was found expedient to clear the deck of 7 fine horses, the property of R. & D. Tisdale of this place, 5 mules belonging to the captain, and 2 hhds of china belonging to Mr. R. Gervias, all of which were thrown overboard.

About half past 6 P. M. the wind blowing directly on shore, and the sea making a continual breach over her, she was drifted on Body Island, and in one hour bilged. The cargo was principally owned by Mr. John Tunis, Messrs. Neilsons & Neil, W. Sayre, jr. & Co, Vincent & Son, Brette & Son, R. & B. Tisdale, Mrs. Simington, George Ott, Robert Robertson, Charles Donaldson, J. C. Adding and T. Lambert.

The passengers were—Messrs S. Simington, Miss Logan, Mr. & Mrs. Clapp, Mrs. B. Tisdale, Mr. Crosbie, pastor of the catholic church, Mr. Lowe, Mr. Fisk, Mr. Church, Mr. George Churchward, and four Irish passengers in the steerage, names not recollected—all of whom, with the whole of the crew, we are happy to learn, reached the shore in safety—Mrs. Simington and Mr. Tisdale arrived here yesterday.

ALEXANDRIA:
MONDAY, MAY 24, 1819.

ORIGIN OF THE BANK OF ENGLAND,
And its Utility to that Country.

The name is derived from the Italian word banca—the bench on which money changers anciently sat in the public markets.

The first bank for the security of private property, was that of Venice, formed in the twelfth century; and all the forms of transfer, according to the present practice, was then regulated.

The bank of England was projected in the reign of William and Mary, by Mr. William Patterson, a merchant, who submitted his scheme to the privy council. It was, after considerable deliberation, established by act of parliament, executed on the 27th July, in the year 1694—And the statute enacted that their majesties might take particular subscriptions for one million two hundred thousand pounds of any persons, foreigners or natives, whom their majesties were impowered to incorporate, with a yearly allowance of one hundred thousand pounds—Viz. ninety six thousand pounds, or eight per cent, for interest, till redeemed, and four thousand pounds to be allowed to the bank for the expense of management. The title of "Governor and Company of the Bank of England" was conferred, and their fund, above mentioned, to be made redeemable upon a year's notice after the 1st of August, 1705, payment of the principal, and then the corporation to cease. Its establishment from the day of institution has never been shaken. They were originally prohibited from borrowing more than one million two hundred thousand pounds, except on parliament funds; but on the 3d. of February, 1708—9, their capital was enlarged; and the 20th of August, 1715, the royal assent was given for its being further extended, in order to raise a sum of nine hundred and ten thousand pounds for the service of the public.

In the year 1717 the bank lent government two millions and a half at five per cent. In the year 1742, the further sum of one million six hundred thousand pounds was advanced for a renewal of their charter: and though in 1760 they were enabled to lend government one million more, they were so pressed the preceding year, during the rebellion, that on the 20th September they began making payments in a further loan of one million four hundred thousand pounds, at three per cent.

In the year 1749—50, the Bank and South Sea Directors agreed to the reduction of the interest of the national debt, upon a proposition of parliament; and in two days the sum subscribed was forty millions.

Their notes in 1696, bore twenty per cent discount, and were under par in 1745, when the merchants of London associated, and agreed to receive them as specie.—Under the administration of the first William Pitt, they acquired credit on the continent, and after the peace of 1763 were universally current through Europe. Small notes of ten and fifteen pounds each were not issued till the year 1759.

FROM CANTON.

The ship Hope Capt. Dixy, has arrived at Philadelphia. A letter, dated CANTON, 5th January last, with which we have been favored, says—"The ship Thomas Scattergood is aground down the river; she went on at very high water; part of her cargo will be taken out in boats. Ginseng is a very bad article at present; It may bring 30 a 35 if very good.—The ship Orozimbo for Baltimore, will sail about the 20th. I send a list of American shipping here. One of them, the Paterson, came here from Batavia, not being able to procure a cargo of coffee, the demand being so great—Price 25 dollars p picul—she brings about 120,000, but will take no silks.

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

Round Hill for Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Daniel McPherson and wife to me, under date of the 30th of May, 1816, and for the purposes therein prescribed, I shall sell at public auction, on the premises on FRIDAY, the 4th of JUNE next, a tract of land in the county of Fairfax, known by the name of lying on the stage or Colchester road, distant about 6 miles from Alexandria, and containing 148¾ acres, more or less;—reserving, however, to George Triplett his right to one moiety of the dwelling house and yard. This land has been very considerably improved by judicious cultivation, and there are now growing crops of small grain upon it.

Also, one other tract, being an equal undivided moiety of a tract of land in the said county, contiguous to the foregoing, and supposed to contain 25 acres 2 poles.

The terms of sale will be made known at the time and place of sale.

J. L. McKENNA, Trustee.

Public Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Daniel McPherson and wife to the subscriber to secure to the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria the payment of a debt due from John McPherson and Son, will be sold at public sale on the premises, on THURSDAY, the 10th day of June next, a certain tract of land, known by the name of ROUND-HILL, in the county of Fairfax, lying on both sides of the Colchester road, adjoining the lands of George Triplett, Dr. Richard Mason, and others, containing 164¾ acres, be the same more or less. This land is handsomely situated, and has lately received considerable improvements. Few farms of its size in the county, perhaps, present higher inducements to a tasteful proprietor.

The terms are one-fourth cash, and the remainder in three equal instalments at 12, 18 and 24 months, with interest from the day of sale. W. VEITCH, Trustee.

Land for Sale.

I WILL sell a great bargain in a small tract of land, containing about 150 acres, more or less, lying on the Potomac river and Monroe's creek, between the two, on the north side said creek, and forming the mouth, whereon William Williams has for many years resided. This situation would be particularly convenient for any person who follows the water, the Creek forming an excellent harbor, and the neighborhood being wealthy, constant freights might be got. The land is susceptible of great improvement, and is the very best wheat land in all the neighborhood. As it is presumed any person wishing to purchase will first view the premises, a further description is thought unnecessary. For terms apply to the subscriber, near Mattox Bridge, Westmoreland county, Virginia.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow:—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

Oct 8 FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.

To Rent,

A two story brick house, on Cameron-street, opposite the market-house, two rooms on a floor, and two in the garret, and a good dry cellar under the whole, with a fire place in the cellar, a brick kitchen, and other out-houses. This lot is 117 feet deep—the front room and half the cellar might be rented by a single person, if agreed for. Enquire of the subscriber.

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and West, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

Blacking for Boots & Shoes,

Superior to any ever offered to the public.

ROBERT COCHRAN,

No. 48, North Fourth-street, next door to the Green Tree Inn, Philadelphia.

WITH confidence offers to the public, his superior Portable and Liquid blacking, so much admired and approved of, which is manufactured by himself only.

This blacking possesses every desirable quality, being of an oily nature, it preserves the leather perfectly soft to the last, and keeps it from cracking—it is a jet black, affords a most superlative polish, entirely free from any offensive smell, and so clean as not to soil the whitest muslin or any other substance it may chance to run against, and will keep in any climate—it has a peculiar advantage in being put up in a portable manner, and may be packed without possibility of risque, with the nicest clothes or goods. The Portable Blacking is much adapted for gentlemen residing or travelling in the country, where materials for making Blacking is not to had, and as for cheapness and elegance, far exceeds any ever imported or manufactured in the union. Where is sold as above, the beautiful Chinese Liquid Blacking, for ladies morocco boots and shoes, which makes the oldest morocco boots or shoes appear the same as when new. Sold wholesale at the manufactory, as above.

N. B. Please observe that each bottle it sealed and signed by the proprietor, to prevent spurious impressions being imposed on the public.

It may be had at the following places in Alexandria.—Dr. Stabler and Richard Woods on Fairfax street,—Dr. Semmes, & Dr. Little's apothecary shops, on King-street.—Isaac Entwisles, shoe factory, and Thomas Mount's factory & Hardware store on King-street. sw2m March 20

Charlotte Hall School.

THE board of trustees for Charlotte Hall school deem it their duty to announce to the public, the present flourishing condition of this institution. Since the introduction of the present professors, the school has rapidly progressed in the public estimation.

When Philip Briscoe, esq. was called to assume the office of Principal, there were but 27 pupils. The liberality of the State Legislature of 1817, enabled the trustees to retain his services and those of Mr. Millimore for the classical department—the Reverend Mr. Neale H. Shaw has also been retained as professor of mathematicks, and he is aided in that department by Mr. Sweetsee, a gentleman in high estimation as a professor. Under the management of these gentlemen the school has now 95 boys; and very many applications have already been made for entrance and board. Heretofore a portion of the boys have been compelled to board at the neighboring houses at too great a distance from the school; the trustees are now making arrangements which will enable fifty boys more to be accommodated immediately at the school; so that at all times the Principal will be enabled to exercise a general superintendance over their moral deportment (to the corruption of which, the boys in this retired village, have but few temptations). The board will remark to those who are unacquainted with this place, that no part of Maryland is more distinguished for its general healthiness. The price of board is only 100 dollars a year. The tuition is now but 28 dollars a year: It will be raised after August to 32 dollars—a price much lower, however, than any of the public schools of our state.

It is intended then by the trustees to select four boys (of poor and indigent parents) of promise, and to board, clothe, and educate them entirely at the expense of the institution, and afterwards to labor to procure them that station to which their talents and conduct may entitle them.

Signed, by order,

NEALE H. SHAW, Reg'r.
